

Village Diary

The Community Council does not keep an on-line village diary of events happening in the village. Notices are posted on the Community Council notice board outside Spar.

Luckily there is already an internet village diary maintained on the Killlearn-on-the-Web site. The Council urges all organisations to post their events on this online diary so that they are available for all internet users to find when and where events are taking place.

It is important that all organisations look at the diary to check for clashes. However, if events are not posted this will not work, so we urge all organisations to appoint someone to be responsible for going to the website and entering their event.

How do you use it? Easy! Go to web address by clicking the link:

<http://www.killlearnontheweb.co.uk/community/calendar>, click on the launch the calendar link and follow the instructions. Your event will then appear in the calendar within the week.

If you just want to see what is on: click here.